

RICHESON RESIGNED, WANTS TO DIE AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, THE "QUICKER THE BETTER" HE SAYS

"I Have Made My Peace With God," Former Baptist Preacher, Doomed to Death for Murder of Fiance, Declares

TO BE EXECUTED SOON AFTER MIDNIGHT TONIGHT

By The Associated Press.
Houston, May 19.—"I have made my peace with God; I am resigned to my fate. I wish now to go to my death as soon as possible; the quicker the better."

These words, spoken by Clarence V. T. Richeson, former Baptist minister and confessed slayer of Avis Linnell, to Rev. Herbert H. Johnson, his spiritual adviser, today, expressed the mental condition of the condemned man, whose tenure of life is now measured only by hours.

There is much reason to believe that he will go to his death in the electric chair shortly after midnight Monday night.

Reclining on a cot in his death cell, Richeson talked long and earnestly with Mr. Johnson and the prison chaplain, Rev. Herbert W. Stebbing.

"I do not want to sleep. I have so little time to live and so much I want to say, that I must talk, talk," he said.

Part of the conversation was of a meditative and religious nature and part was reminiscent. The prisoner reviewed countless incidents of his boyhood in Virginia, his college days at Liberty, Mo., furnishing further topics.

When the hour of execution arrives, Mr. Johnson, as his spiritual adviser, will precede him in the short walk to the electric chair. Three physicians, the prison doctor, the county medical examiner and the surgeon general of the commonwealth will attend as the legal witnesses. The prison chaplain also is entitled to attend.

Reporters to be present. Besides, there may be three witnesses designated by the warden. An appeal having been made to Gov. Fox by press associations for representation, the warden decided to accede to the wishes of the governor and admit representatives of three press associations. Late yesterday it was learned that Richeson had requested his counsel, Wm. Morse, to be present, but the warden was compelled to deny this, as all legal witnesses had been arranged for.

Surgeons and medical societies, eager to gain some knowledge by the post-mortem examination of the unusual subject, have applied for the brain and spinal cord of the victim after death, but these will all be refused.

Profess Twenty-third Psalm. Richeson was deeply pained when told today that his father had promised his body should lie beside that of his mother in the family lot in Virginia.

Between Chaplain Stebbing and Rev. Johnson, Richeson has not been without a religious adviser at any time since he received on Friday the announcement that there was no hope of his escape from the electric chair. Today Mr. Johnson and Richeson had a long and earnest talk on religious matters. When asked what passage of the Bible pleased him most, Richeson recited the twenty-third Psalm.

"After reading the psalm," said Mr. Johnson, "Richeson gave a brief exposition of it, applying it throughout to his own experience and life."

Repeats Passage to Himself. "But the greatest comfort the condemned man found was the seven-teenth verse of the twenty-second chapter of Revelation: 'And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will let him take of the water of life freely.'"

This passage he repeated to himself again and again. The twelfth verse of the twenty-seventh Psalm he repeated frequently, apparently believing that it might appropriately apply to his case: "Deliver me not over unto the will of mine enemies, for false witnesses are arisen up against me, and such as breathe out cruelty."

"Richeson is a man of great talent," said Mr. Johnson, after leaving the death cell. "He talked at length of the great spiritual truths which revealed unto men. He is in a calm frame of mind, and I feel that he will meet death courageously and like a Christian man. He has made his peace with God, and he wishes now, he says, to go to his execution as soon as possible."

Resigned, Says Physician. After visiting Richeson today, Dr. McLaughlin, the prison physician, said that he had found the condemned man in a satisfactory condition.

"He is calm and resigned, and is resting easily," said the doctor. The crowd of curiosity seekers outside the prison gates became so large today that the policeman assigned to special duty until after the execution was kept busy enforcing his command to "move on." The outer gates to the prison yard had to be closed to keep the crowd from encroaching upon the prison premises.

PREACHER SLAIN IN FIGHT OVER A WOMAN

WAYCROSS, GA., MINISTER KILLED IN DUEL WITH COUSIN, LATTER HURT.

Other's Attention to Victim's Wife, Separated from Him, Starts the Trouble.

By The Associated Press.
Waycross, Ga., May 19.—Clifford Bennett, a Baptist preacher, was killed, and Carey Bennett, a cousin, was injured in a pistol duel near here today. Two bystanders were also slightly hurt by stray bullets. Clifford Bennett, who is wealthy, separated from his wife some time ago and his wife filed suit for divorce yesterday.

The shooting is said by friends of the two men to have been due to young Carey's attentions to his cousin's wife. The cousin had been notified to keep away from Millwood, the village where Clifford lived and today got off the train in company with two young women, for the first time in several months. Clifford was at the station and it is said the shooting began immediately.

Further Trouble Feared. A brother of Carey ran between the two men but firing was done over his shoulder, striking Carey in the head. Clifford was shot three times. Carey was arrested when he went to a doctor's four miles from the scene. Further trouble is expected because of the prominence of the participants, but everything was quiet tonight.

BODY OF MAN GARBED AS CLERGYMAN FOUND IN DRY

WEIGHTED DOWN WITH HEAVY IRON BAR—SKULL FRACTURED IN TWO PLACES.

By The Associated Press.
Los Angeles, May 19.—The body of an unidentified man was found floating in the harbor at San Pedro today by a fisherman. His hands were tied by a heavy cord and his skull was fractured in two places. A heavy iron bar was attached to the body. The man was about 45 years old, six feet one inch high, and weighed about 200 pounds. The clothing was of broadcloth, such as is worn by clergymen.

rived in Boston today. He planned to visit the death house during the evening. Richeson's counsel, Wm. A. Morse, was a visitor during the afternoon. Mr. Morse remained with the prisoner during the evening. Richeson seemed to be in good spirits and kept up an incessant conversation. When the warden went to his cell the prisoner looked up brightly and exclaimed:

"I'll be with you when you want me, warden. You need not worry; I won't break down again."

The warden carried to Richeson a package of letters, selected from many which have arrived in the last day or two. When the warden told Richeson he might read them if he wished, the prisoner turned them over to his counsel with a wave of the hand, saying:

"You may read them to me if you like. I don't mind, one way or the other."

Mr. Morse was authorized by the warden to let Richeson know that the execution would not take place tonight. Richeson's brother, Douglas, had not called at the prison when Mr. Morse left at 9:30, and it was said that he would defer his visit until tomorrow.

Brother Won't Visit Him. Douglas Richeson, who came here from Chicago to take care of his brother's body, said tonight that he does not intend to visit the condemned man. Discussing the effort to save his brother's life, he said:

"Your governor is a credit to any state. I think he has been fair to the man, and certainly fair to the commonwealth which he represents. All that can be done has been done. What has been done can not be undone."

HOUSTON FIRE LOSS REACHES A MILLION

LOST WOMAN BY NEGRO PLOT TO DRINKING, HE RISE IN ARMS KILLS SELF REPORTED

GERMAN NOBLEMAN, LANDHOLDER IN NORTHWEST, COMMITS SUICIDE IN CHICAGO.

Photograph of Niece of Late Millionaire Packer in His Hand. She'd Left Him.

By The Associated Press.
Chicago, May 19.—Henry Spruck Von Armenthal, member of the German nobility and a large landowner in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, shot and killed himself today. Hotel attaches who found the body in his room discovered a revolver in one hand and a photograph of Mrs. Frances Rosenblatt, niece of the late Nelson Morris, millionaire packer, in the other.

"Lost Finest Woman." Von Armenthal left a note in which he said that his despondency was due to drink and the fact that he had lost "the finest woman in the world" because of his drinking.

He also directed that his lawyer, Clifford Spruck Baron Somms Stambach von Armenthal of Hessen-Darmstadt, Germany, should dispose of his large estate.

The romance terminated by von Armenthal's death is said to have originated at a Los Angeles hotel two years ago. Attorney Walter D. Jones of Chicago, identified Mrs. Rosenblatt's picture and told the police of von Armenthal's love for her.

Contemplated Suicide Often. The note left by the suicide contained these words:

"I have several times contemplated destroying myself within the last two years and drink is the cause of all. In a moment of despondency, I take my own life. I love the finest woman in the world. I know she loves me dearly, she left me in disgust several days ago. The facts are that I am myself disgusted with myself—therefore the end."

"I send my latest will to my lawyers in Seattle today, directing them that my older brother shall own or dispose of all my real property in the states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho for his personal benefit, with the exception of some property which I have especially mentioned to be made over to a poor working boy of this city who has done me, within the past few days, a great service."

My lawyer in Seattle to whom I shall write at the last moment, shall attend to all proper matters. Further, I want my body held at an undertaking establishment for at least four days until his arrival and he may select a burying place. No ceremonies, strictly private."

Match Called Off. Mrs. Rosenblatt for a number of years resided in New York, where her late husband, Benj. Rosenblatt, was a wealthy leather manufacturer. Attorney Jones said that von Armenthal and Mrs. Rosenblatt became engaged shortly after their first meeting in Los Angeles.

"Chaperoned by relatives," said Mr. Jones, "Mrs. Rosenblatt traveled through various parts of the west with von Armenthal. The wedding date was set for last June and von Armenthal had arranged to present Mrs. Rosenblatt with $50,000 as a wedding gift. Then came trouble because of von Armenthal's drinking and then the match was broken."

Later there was a partial reconciliation and von Armenthal accompanied Mrs. Rosenblatt on a trip to Atlanta, Ga., to visit her there. This was the last trip he made with her, however. He returned from Atlanta about three weeks ago and from that time until his death, drank heavily. It was reported that he and Mrs. Rosenblatt had broken again.

Threatened Suicide. Von Armenthal met at my residence last Tuesday night and my wife and I attempted to effect a reconciliation but without result. Von Armenthal then told Mrs. Rosenblatt that he would kill himself.

Although she is believed to be in Chicago, Mrs. Rosenblatt would not be found by newspaper men tonight. Her sister, Mrs. Jennette Eachus, said that Mrs. Rosenblatt had declared that the marriage with von Armenthal was impossible unless he stopped drinking and that the engagement had been broken off solely for that reason.

RELIEVED FORMER RESIDENT OF WENATCHEE, WASHINGTON

By The Associated Press.
Wenatche, Wash., May 19.—Henry Spruck von Armenthal, who committed suicide Sunday in Chicago, is believed to have been a former resident of Wenatche, where he was known as Henry Spruck. He left here three years ago, after the death of his wife, and was said to have gone to California. He visited here three months ago to look after some business affairs.

CONSPIRACY AGAINST GOVERNMENT DISCOVERED, SAYS HAVANA PAPER.

Five Arrests Made and Warrants for Many More Issued, One for a General.

By The Associated Press.
Havana, May 19.—According to the newspaper, Ultima Hora, a negro conspiracy has been discovered at Sagua La Grande, the apparent intention being to rise in arms against the government. Five negroes have been arrested and warrants have been issued for several more. Rural guards are reported pursuing A. Laredo Pacheco, the alleged chief of the conspiracy, who is accompanied by other fugitives. It is also reported that seventeen negroes who have disappeared from the town of Mayarica are under suspicion of being concerned in the uprising.

May Not Be Serious. The seriousness of the movement is doubtful. The government is reticent and it is possible that the arrests are merely the result of infiltration of the law which prohibits political meetings on racial lines.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Gen. Estanós, leader of the "Independent party of color," who is now in Oriente province, but this is possibly on the charge of contempt of the order issued by the civil court. The rural guards arrested six negroes at Guanajay, thirty miles from Havana. They are suspected of complicity in the report of a rising at Sagua La Grande and Mayarica.

STEAMER'S GANG PLANK LETS TWO TO DEATH

ADJUSTABLE END SLIPS AT SEATTLE DOCK, DROPPING 60 INTO THE SOUND.

Most of Injured Are Only Slightly Bruised—Were Boarding Flyer for Tacoma.

By The Associated Press.
Seattle, Wash., May 19.—Two persons are known to have been drowned and 40 or more were injured today when the adjustable end of a temporary passenger gang plank at the Coleman dock dropped precipitating sixty passengers into the water as they were preparing to board the sound steamer Flyer for Tacoma.

The dead are Mrs. G. W. Larned of Seattle and Carl Bruder, one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bruder of Seattle. Most of the injured were only slightly bruised and all will recover.

A defective cog broke under the weight of the crowding passengers and the shock of an inch drop was sufficient to strip the cogs and let the end of the plank fall into the water.

Watch Their Brother Fall to Death When Parachute Won't Open

By The Associated Press.
Nahant, Mass., May 19.—James Barr, Jr., 20 years old, a Lynn novice, was killed today in attempting to make a parachute drop from a balloon from a height of 1000 feet. He was unable to make the parachute open, although he clawed frantically at the tangled cloth and strings during his rapid descent. Two thousand persons witnessed the accident, among them two sisters of the young man.

STRINDBERG BURNED.

By The Associated Press.
Stockholm, May 19.—Thirty thousand persons today attended the funeral of Auguste Strindberg, the novelist, who died May 14. The students of all the Swedish universities were at the grave, as well as Prince Eugene, fourth son of the late King Oscar, the cabinet and members of the railroad.

WRIGHT HAS FIGHTING CHANCE.

By The Associated Press.

ASSERTS T. R.'S ATTITUDE, A LA LOUIS XIV. IS "THE G. O. P." I AM IT.

Other Won't Abide by Sacred Edict of the National Committee, Shouts W. H. T.

By The Associated Press.
Cincinnati, O., May 19.—In a most bitter and scathing denunciation of Col. Theo. Roosevelt, President Taft declared tonight that "the certainty of his defeat for the republican nomination must be a source of profound congratulations to all republicans," declared that his predecessor in the white house would attempt to wreck the republican party if he is not chosen by the republican national convention and compared Mr. Roosevelt to Louis Fourteenth of France, who said "The state? I am it."

The attack was in the form of a statement in which the president said:

Says T. R. Thinks Self G. O. P. "Mr. Roosevelt says that he is the republican party and that the republican party in passing on the credentials of delegates for the preliminary roll in the convention shall hold to be unfounded, his many many contests, he will decline to abide by the judgment of those having authority. The inference from this is that he will bolt the convention because a duly constituted republican national committee shall after adjudication, refuse to seat his contesting delegates. If his edict is to be heeded, then the holding of any convention at all is a perturbation and superfluous."

The acceptance of his statement that he is the republican party made no parallel in history save in the famous words of Louis XIV. "The state I am it."

Asserts No Reason For Contests. With charges traceable premeditation he projected contests without the slightest reason therefor in many cases, weeks after the regular conventions had been held, merely to make a task for a campaign of bluff and bluster.

Now he threatens that unless this campaign thus carried on is to be recognized as successful and unless honestly elected delegates shall be thrown out in sufficient numbers to give him a majority, he will break from the party and try to gain that which he cannot rule.

Treason to Party. "I appeal to all republicans to say whether a man who assumes this attitude does not forfeit his claim to any right to become a candidate in a republican convention? It cannot be that republicans will countenance such a breach of party fealty such treason to the party's properly constituted government and such defiance of the will of its majority."

Mr. Roosevelt has not seen fit to answer the question whether he is nominated and elected, he will discontinue the steel trust suit and the Harvester trust, nor has he answered the question whether he will accept a fourth term.

President Taft spent a quiet day. He went to church in the morning and this evening took a motor ride. Tomorrow the president will leave Cincinnati early and make more than ten speeches. He will return to Washington Tuesday afternoon.

Taft TRYING TO FIND WORK FOR ENGINEERS

Washington, May 19.—President Taft has directed the state department to endeavor to find work for the American locomotive engineers and conductors who are out of employment because of the strike of the National Railway of Mexico.

FERRIS DIES.

By The Associated Press.
Nashville, May 19.—John Clay Ferris, founder of the famous Ferris orphanage in Nashville, died today, aged 75 years. Mr. Ferris was the originator in America of the plan of taking orphan children temporarily into an institution and then placing them with families for adoption.

For nearly half a century he has maintained his nursery in this city. At that time he had charge of 5000 children, all of whom were placed in homes for adoption. Societies all over the United States have commended Mr. Ferris' work, and his plan has been generally adopted in preference to the rearing of children in institutions.

BUSINESS SECTION BLAZE SWEEPED; BUILDINGS CRASH

Galveston Fire Fighters and Apparatus Rushed on Special Train—Defective Wiring Causes Sunday Conflagration

TWO STRUCTURES IN ASHES, MANY MORE DAMAGED

Special to The Morning News.
Houston, May 19.—One million dollars loss was the toll claimed by fire in the central business district of Houston early this morning, when fire originating in the Stowers building, a six-story structure, owned by H. Masterson and occupied by the Stowers Furniture company and A. Lipper's millinery establishment, consumed that structure, and spreading rapidly, destroyed three other buildings and damaged four others.

Defective wiring is declared by firemen to have been the cause of the fire, which started in the upper story of the Lipper establishment. FIRE SOON BEYOND CONTROL.

The alarm was turned in by a linotype operator on the Post who was homeward bound a little before 4 o'clock this morning. The firemen responded promptly, but by the time of their arrival the Stowers building presented a raging madhouse of fire, which was beyond control. Flames were threatening other buildings, and their efforts were directed toward saving adjacent property.

A long, weary battle with the flames ensued, and despite strenuous endeavors, the Temple building, a four-story structure; the Mason building, a four-story structure, and the Latham building, three stories, are in ruins tonight. All of these buildings, with the exception of the Latham building, which is to the rear of the Stowers structure, were on Main street, the principal business artery of the city, and within a block of where the new eighteen-story Rice hotel is under construction.

RELIEF APPARATUS FROM GALVESTON. The ten-story Jones building, occupied by the Texas company, the big oil corporation; the Mitchell building and the Latham building were severely damaged by flames, smoke and water.

The situation became so desperate in the early morning hours that a special train was rushed to Houston from Galveston, bringing twenty firemen, an auto truck, a chemical and a hose wagon to the aid of the Houston firemen.

The only accident, despite the crowd of spectators which thronged the streets, occurred when Bud Wagner, a fireman, was struck by a falling timber from the Temple building. His back was struck and the spinal cord injured. Tonight he is totally paralyzed.

FIND BODIES OF MURDERED CREW OF TROLLEY

JACKSONVILLE STREET CAR CONDUCTOR AND MOTORMAN SHOT IN HEAD.

By The Associated Press.
Jacksonville, Fla., May 19.—The dead bodies of Motorman R. F. Spardman and Conductor T. C. Smith, lying in the road on Talleyrand avenue, about seventy-five yards from their car, were found by a party of automobilists early today. Both men had been shot through the head, and near Spardman's body was the motor controller. One theory is that the men had trouble with a passenger on their car and that Spardman had grabbed up his controller to defend himself.

The murderer left absolutely no clue. Whether the murder was committed by a passenger on the car or by parties who waylaid the car crew is problematical.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

By The Associated Press.
Minneapolis, May 19.—A proposition in the majority report of the committee on revision to change the name "district superintendent" to "presiding elder" will be opposed in a minority report to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow. Until the conference at Baltimore four years ago, the term "presiding elder" was used to designate the minister who had charge of a district.

Mitchell building, on Capitol avenue, adjoining the Temple building, was damaged in front. The Capitol hotel building was also slightly damaged. The heat was so intense at the thirteen-story Carter building, situated a block away from the Stowers, that many of the windows were broken, and the owners of the building for a time were uneasy lest the leap of the flames and the consuming heat should not be gotten under control before the handsome structure became doomed.

Two Buildings in Ashes. The Stowers building and the Latham building are in total ruins. While some of the walls of the Stowers building and the Temple building are intact, the firemen do not believe any portion of these two can be saved, hence their loss is total.

LABOR LAWS IN RUSSIA ARE STRINGENT

THOSE APPLYING TO COTTON
MILLS ARE SEVERE AS OTHER ONES.

Children Under Twelve May Not Be Employed—How Agreement
May Be Annulled.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 19.—The laws in Russia in respect to labor in cotton mills are essentially as stringent as those in other industries, according to a report on the subject issued by the Bureau of manufacture, department of commerce and labor.

The principal provisions of the laws are:

For the purposes of the law night work is reckoned as from 9 p. m. to 5 a. m. for mills operating with one shift and from 10 p. m. to 4 a. m. for those with two shifts.

Where one shift is employed, the hours of labor must not exceed 11-12 in each 24, and on Saturdays and the eves of holidays the hours must not exceed 10, and in all cases there must be an interval of rest of not less than one hour.

When work is carried on for 18 hours a day with two shifts of operatives the working hours in each 24 may be increased to 12, provided that in a fortnight the average work time for each operative does not exceed 9 hours.

The operatives must be allowed time for meals at least once in 6 hours. When the work time between two intervals of rest exceeds 6 hours, and any other distribution of time is given, the workmen must be allowed to take their meals during work time, and a place for meals must be fixed by shop regulations.

Children under 12 may not be employed. Minors from 12 to 15 may not be engaged for more than 8 hours per day exclusive of the period assigned for meals, school, and rest; work must not occupy more than 4 successive hours, and is prohibited from 9 p. m. to 5 a. m. Where two shifts are used during 18 hours they can be employed 9 hours, but work must not occupy more than 4 1-2 consecutive hours. Minors from 15 to 17 and women may not be employed at night.

The conditions of the agreement made between employer and employee are stated in a book, a copy of which is given to each worker, and must be delivered to him seven days after his employment. In this book are noted all payments to be made by the employer and all fines imposed for idleness, neglect, etc. When the length of engagement is indefinite, either party may break the agreement by giving a fortnight's notice. The laborer must be paid not less frequently than once a month if the engagement is for a longer time, and at least twice a month if the contract is for an indefinite time.

The agreement can be annulled (1) if the workman is absent from work three days consecutively, or six days in one month, without just cause; (2) if the workman is absent from his work during two weeks running for any cause whatever; (3) for rudeness or misconduct, if such menace the interests of the employer or the personal security of anyone connected with the factory; (4) if the laborer for any act be sentenced to imprisonment; (5) in case of the laborer contracting a contagious disease. A discharged laborer may appeal, in the case last mentioned, to the factory inspector or to the court of justice, which fixes the compensation to which he is entitled if his complaint is sustained.

The administration may fix a list of fines to be imposed on the employee for (1) negligence, (2) idleness, (3) infringement of rules. Each act subject to a fine must be stated in special tables, with the amount of said fine, and no fine may exceed one-third the laborer's wage. This list must be approved by the factory inspector, and all fines collected under it must go to a fund for the benefit of the operatives.

These laws have been in effect since 1893, and factory inspectors are employed to see that they are observed, and, in general, to act as an intermediary between employers and workmen.

Compensation for injuries. Compensation for laborers in case of injury is regulated by the law of June 2, 1902, under which the employer is obliged to compensate the laborer and the members of his family; but the employer is relieved of this obligation when he can prove that the accident was the fault of the laborer. Compensation is in the form of an aid, or pension, paid from the date of injury until the employee's full restoration to health. For complete disability a pension is allotted amounting to two-thirds of the annual wage, and for partial disability according to degree. In case death results from an accident a pension is paid to the deceased's family, one-third going to the widow, one-third to the children, and one-third to the brothers and sisters.

Medical and funeral expenses are paid by the employer, and in cases of factories employing 1000 work people or more, infirmaries or hospitals must be provided, the size of which is determined by the number of employees.

All the laws appear to be strictly observed by the cotton mills, and there is a notable absence of small children in the factories.

No Labor Organizations.

There is no organization among the cotton-mill operatives; in fact, such organizations are contrary to the laws of the country, which provide heavy penalties of imprisonment for originators of or participants in a strike. Nevertheless there have been frequent strikes, although the number is considerably less than formerly. During the disturbances throughout Russia in 1905 and 1906 the manufacturers suffered heavily and the damage to their property was considerable. Conditions have greatly improved since then, but at many of the mills a force of police is employed, often supplemented by a detachment of government troops. By intervening between employer and employees in cases of dispute the labor inspectors have had an influence in preventing strikes.

The improved condition of the operatives has not been brought about by strikes, however, and wages have not had more than a normal increase in the past 10 years. Strikes have had more of a political nature than a well-formulated and fixed determination to secure higher wages, or a protest to the manufacturer, as in the United States.

WASHINGTON ORDERS
RELEASE OF SAN TONA

BRITISH STEAMER, HELD FOR HAVING ARMED SHIPMENT FOR MEXICO, IS FREED.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, May 19.—The British steamer San Tona, which was seized last night by the United States revenue cutter Dewey, because of the presence aboard of a shipment of arms and ammunition for Campeche, Mex., was released this afternoon on telegraphic instructions from Washington.

The Montes Steamship company, charterers of the San Tona, produced consular invoices, bills of lading and other documentary evidence to support their claim that no attempt has been made to conceal the shipment, and showed that the war supplies were for the governor of the state of Campeche, Mexico, and not for the revolutionists, as the special agent of the department of justice had been informed.

SEIZED THROUGH OVERSIGHT.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 19.—The San Tona was released because the arms and ammunition aboard had been accepted by President Taft from the operation of the neutrality proclamation. Permission to carry the munitions had been applied for at Washington and granted in accordance with the government's policy of extending this courtesy to the recognized government of Mexico. Customs and department of justice officials at New Orleans through oversight were not notified of the authority given, however. The seizure under the circumstances, officials here say, was proper.

RIVER DIKE BREAK
INUNDATES TOWN

Melville, La., Is Flooded When Atchafalaya Levee Gives Way.

By The Associated Press.

Baton Rouge, La., May 19.—The town of Melville, situated on the flood since the present high water started, was inundated today when the levee on the west bank of the Atchafalaya river, 15 miles north, broke at 8 o'clock this morning.

Capt. Logan, in charge of the United States rescue corps, today dispatched the steamship Minnetonka with a barge to Melville to bring away those inhabitants who desired to leave, together with livestock and household goods. Lieutenant Edwards was ordered to Opelousas to assist Captain Bennett.

The situation at Melville has been critical for so long that only about 400 or 500 persons remained. Water has been in the lower part of the town several days, but today's break will thoroughly inundate the town.

FAMOUS TRAMP MAKES
WACO JAIL A VISIT

"A NO. 1" WIDELY TRAVELED
BO. PUTS IN NIGHT IN LOCAL LOCKUP.

Waco unconsciously entertained one of the most famous men of his kind in the United States, if not in the world, recently when the squeaky doors at the city jail swung open and closed again on "A No. 1." Maybe you do not on the spur of the moment recall who "A No. 1" is. In other words, A No. 1 claims the distinction of being the most traveled "tourist" in the world. The inscription, "A No. 1," with a neatly drawn arrow piercing the letters, is upon 30,000 water tanks, if there are that many tanks in the world. On fences, trees and billboards in every city in the country those words will greet the eye. In Waco, years ago, they were left behind. "A No. 1" has traveled in every land, under every sky, and is still on the go. He says he has ridden 25,000 miles in box cars and on the roads. He has beat it across the salty deserts so many times that he has ceased to keep count, he says. He has walked, and has been arrested in practically every city in America and Europe, and says he does not feel that he has been properly welcomed to a town or city unless he has had an introduction to the police, who invariably oust him from a box car in the yards, where he is merely taking a little snooze.

"A No. 1" was taken in custody by the police in East Waco, and it was with considerable difficulty that he was awakened from his dreams of riding the rods or beating it over the Katy or the Southern Pacific. When asked why he did not give his true and correct name, that of "A No. 1," to the police, he smiled and said:

"Sonny, them guys are a queer lot, and I have learned that it is not a good idea to parade my title to them. They all know or have heard of me. Maybe it is best as it is. Well, good-bye for me. The town with a skyscraper is a dinger, all right, but it is not the kind of a town that suits me. It's back to the east and dear little old New York for little Willie, and I am on my way. There goes my train now. So long."

And he lumbered over to a big red box car and climbed aboard with all the assurance of one who had a perfect right to ride to the end of the earth, or anywhere else, without being troubled with that oft and stereotyped query, "What ye ridin' on?" which the con or the brakie shoves under his very nose as the cars speed on.

PARIS INTERESTED IN COMING BOND ISSUE

SALE FOR EXTENSION OF MUNI-CIPAL GAS SYSTEM—ATTRAC-TIVE TO FRENCHMEN.

By The Associated Press.

Paris, May 19.—Great public interest is displayed throughout France in the forthcoming issue of bonds of the city of Paris to the amount of 205,000,000 francs ($41,000,000) for the extension of the municipal gas system. The bonds have a par value of 300 francs, but will be issued at 255, with interest at 3 per cent. No issue in French history has been so attractive to Frenchmen, as it possesses the allurements of a lottery with monthly drawings. The premiums range from 500 to 200,000 francs, the total amount thus to be distributed up to 1923 being 1,490,000 francs. An additional feature is that bonds may be obtained by the deposit of 10 francs, with subsequent 25-franc payments up to 1915. The recent issue of 300,000,000 francs worth of the western state-owned railroad bonds, over subscribed thirty-three times, showed that there is a vast amount of ready money in the traditional French stocking. Indications are that the pending municipal issue which will be offered for subscription Tuesday will prove even more popular.

BABY KILLED IN MOTHER'S ARMS BY PROWLER

"JACK THE SHOOTER" FIRES AT LITTLE ROCK WOMAN AFTER ATTEMPTING ASSAULT.

Two Bullets Strike Infant on her Breast, Causing Instant Death.

By The Associated Press.

Little Rock, Ark., May 19.—A mysterious prowler whom the police call "Jack the Shooter," entered the residence of D. P. Coulter, three blocks from the center of the business district, early this morning and attempted to assault Mrs. Coulter. When she made outcry the intruder fired twice at her. Her nine-month-old baby was lying on her breast and both bullets struck the baby, killing it instantly. The intruder then escaped.

The murder is another of a long series of crimes believed to have all been committed by one man. Mayor Charles E. Taylor this afternoon issued a proclamation calling upon citizens of Little Rock to arm themselves and aid the police in capturing or killing the murderer. Half an hour after the murder of the babe, a prowler supposed to be the murderer entered the home of Mrs. Jennings, a half-block from Main street. He fired at Mrs. Jennings and also at two policemen who were attracted by her cries. The police emptied their revolvers at him fleeing form but he made his escape.

BAPTIST MINISTERS AT CONVENTION "SUBBING"

By The Associated Press.

Oklahoma City, May 19.—The visiting ministers to the Southern Baptist convention here were assigned to fill different pulpits in the city and suburban towns today. Two mass meetings were held, the Judson memorial meeting was most largely attended and an overflow meeting was conducted at the First Christian church. Lieut. Gov. Charles Smith of South Carolina, was the principal speaker.

At the meeting this afternoon of the Woman's Missionary Union the visiting Indian delegates sang the Baptist hymns in five different Indian languages.

The work of the convention probably will be completed tomorrow. Some of the delegates and many of the visitors already have left.

Whale, Twenty Feet Long, Weighing Two Tons Is Lassoed

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 19.—A whale, twenty feet long and weighing about two tons, was lassoed off Rockaway Beach, Long Island, near the Avenue life-saving station today by John E. Khar.

The monster was sighted early in the day evidently trying to free itself from a depression in the sand, having crossed a small bar in pursuit of a school of fish.

TEETH BRUSHED TWICE DAILY IN CANINE FAMILY

Dogs In Miss Crocker's Kennels Also To Be Manicured Each Week.

Special to The Morning News.

San Francisco, May 19.—Miss Jennie Crocker, heiress to about $10,000,000, who has gone east to purchase a trousseau, left behind orders that each dog in her $150,000 kennels at Hillsborough should have its teeth brushed and its nails manicured once a week. A weary kennel man, who came to town to forget about it, is credited with the information. The tooth brushing occurs when each dog wakes in the morning, and again at bed time. The manicuring is said to be an afterthought of a fight which occurred two weeks ago when a school boy drifted into the kennel yard and chained two prize bull dogs at the same time.

Individual beds, with appropriate linen for each dog, as provided by Miss Florence Hopkins of Menlo park, for her toy dogs, are said to have proved impracticable in the Crocker kennels, because of the tendency of high bred bull dogs to chew up the sheets.

NEW YORK PLAYS AND PLAYERS

By Emory B. Calvert.

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 19.—The past week was one of surpassing dullness in circles theatrical. It rained part of the time, and when it didn't rain, either Lewis Walter or Joe Noel spoiled the otherwise bright and happy hours with performances of their separate plays.

Of course, Mr. Noel will have to be excused. It was his first offense and there is one bright spot in his play, "The Marriage Not," but Mr. Walter, the talented English actor, should have hesitated long before he capped his American successes with "The Explorer," a play that failed to impress even the stolid English.

"The Marriage Not."

Mr. Joseph Noel, according to his own admission, hails from the Pacific coast, where he writes for the newspapers—a learned and erudite occupation. It was in this land of the jack rose and the jack rabbit that Mr. Noel conceived "The Marriage Not." It was not received with enthusiasm by New Yorkers.

The play has little of the scent of the syringas in its make-up. In fact, it savors of the decaying ethics of pseudo philosophers, whose fancied complaints are daily aired in the divorce courts, and contains, with one exception, not a line or a situation to arouse the audience at the Maxine Elliott theater from the peaceful sleep induced by the comfort of the two-dollar orchestra chairs.

The one exception is a violin recital by a free-love, long-haired poet, during which the stage audience gapes and yawns in a manner exactly identical to the gapes and yawns of the paid admissions. This is the first time in our experience that the actors are provided with a share of the misery perpetrated on "the men in front."

As a matter of fact the violin recital is a climax and turning point of the play, therefore its carefully prepared mediocrity has an added significance. It happens in this manner:

David Phillips, a Wall street husband, has aroused the ire of his wife by his mad chase for dollars, which she sums up in the word "neglect."

Now the panacea for neglect, as everyone knows, including the wife and Mr. Noel, is the divorce court; so she sets about securing the necessary documentary proof of freedom, and in the meantime falls in love with the aforementioned poet.

The poet, besides being wealthy and a disciple of Nietzsche, has spent many years in comfortable communion with "Stella of the Rialto," tormented after the manner of poets, to marry his companion. This, of course, is rather a shock to the friends of the young wife, who conceive a plan for disillusionizing her and reknitting the frayed ends of her marriage knot.

To accomplish this end, they requisitioned a violin and the poet's much-avowed adoration of Nietzsche. He is lured to the home of a mutual friend, the family fiddle produced, and is induced to perform thereon, with the result that the young wife finds that as a poet-fiddler he is a frost and she promptly forsakes him for her former bread winner.

What the moral may be would form a pleasant guessing contest at an after-theater supper party.

Whether Wall street should be abolished, or Nietzsche (if he is not already out of harm's way) should be burned at the stake, is a mystery. If one might hazard a guess, however, it would be that divorce should not be smiled upon—merely smiled at and waved aside.

"The Explorer."

Mr. W. Somerset Maugham is England's champion "tear-table talker," company with English tea, and ed quite a reputation. In "The Explorer" at Daly's, however, he stutted the brackish water, with result that he produces a true conglomeration that bears all marks of being brewed at the satisfactory atmosphere of a helmet.

Maugham is not unknown to Americans. His "Lady Frederick," "Jack Straw" and "Fondle," all had their production here and many instances, have all been his. He is certainly not unknown, since his first appearance in the country in "The Garden of Allah," he has produced several plays that have added to his American fame. It is, therefore, with mournful misgivings that we approach "The Explorer," a play that blazes no new trails.

The story of "The Explorer" hangs upon the Quixotic refusal of a man to right himself in the eyes of his fiancée by a word of explanation—which, as most of the trouper community are only too anxious to explain matters away, is at best a slender thread. Working upon this premise the author builds a set of situations which Walter does his best to make real with the inevitable result—he fails.

DOG IS "SOME" LINGUIST. KNOWS ENGLISH AND SPANISH

Waco has a novelty in the shape of a dog that understands two languages. It is a roodle answering to the name of "Trixie." Trixie belongs to "Puss" Hannah, who conducts a place on the square.

Hannah speaks to the dog in English and Spanish. In either case Trixie is always on the job, and apparently is as familiar with the compliments besides speaking two languages fluently, but enough for this once.

Slow Progress Made, as Bridges in by the Rebels.

The first Sunday night of the revival since the union of forces proved an opening up of interest that surpassed the expectation of the most hopeful workers. "We usually preach two weeks before pressing the invitation," said Evangelist Ham, "but now in Waco the harvest is ripe."

In response to earnest appeals many persons raised their hands for prayer, some 50 people came forward to be instructed and about 20 made the definite confession of faith, promising to unite with the church. At the afternoon meeting also, while several score of men came for prayers, four men made the definite decision. This is considered a remarkable interest this early in the meeting.

The plan of the meeting is thorough union. The names of every convert being secured, with his church preference, and these names are given to the various pastors to follow up.

If any doubted the possibility of filling the immense tabernacle, packed with seats, they were surprised last night to see all seats filled, standing room taken and several hundred turning away. The crowd was estimated by many at 5000 or 6000. Many occupied their conveyances, standing in Franklin street, which was almost blocked between Sixth and Seventh streets.

The striking feature as a general attraction is the singing of the big choir. Over 600 voices, with 50 instruments added together as in a great organ by the master leadership of Singer Ramsey, makes music that people will never forget. The solos of Evangelist Ham have caught the hearts of the crowd. A pure clear tenor voice thrilling with the fervor of the message makes the solo of unusual power. "Life's Highway" was the popular song at the men's meeting.

The tabernacle was over half filled with men at the 3 o'clock service, and the speaker had perfect sway over the men. The larger part of the audience accepted the speaker's invitation to shed their coats.

Be not deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, that shall he also reap. The text which the preacher drove home with illustration pitted on experience, in startling climaxes. Some laughter and many tears told the deep human interest of his auditors.

"You can deceive your wife, you can deceive your friend, but the worst deception you ever got off is on yourself. But God you cannot receive. No thought you have or word you speak ever leaves you without leaving a harvest of seeds to grow a crop, and you must reap it whether you will or not."

"Sow blood and you reap blood; sow gambling in your home and you reap gamblers as your children; sow evil thoughts and they come back to curse you."

Evangelist Ham will preach every morning at 10 and every night at 8. Today after school, every boy and girl in town is asked to come to join the great chorus of 500 children. Cottage prayer meetings will be held throughout the city every day.

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN FOR CHICAGO CONVENTION UNNAMED

Chicago, May 19.—Harry S. New, chairman of the subcommittee on arrangements of the republican national convention, in an interview tonight said that nothing further had been done in the naming of a temporary chairman for the convention. When the subcommittee members adjourned yesterday it was announced that the selection of a temporary chairman had been left with Mr. New.

LOUISIANA REPUBLICANS ARE IN A QUANDARY

New Orleans, May 19.—Louisiana's republican party politics was further complicated by the announcement of the district delegates to the national convention elected by the Roosevelt faction May 14, as compiled today by E. J. Thibierge, secretary of the republican state central committee. Taft delegates representing the so-called "black and tan" and "illy white" factions have also been elected from nearly all of the Louisiana districts.

By The Associated Press.

Mexico City, May 19.—The federal army under Gen. Huerta had reached Zavalta today, nine miles south of Escalon, the rebel stronghold. Telegrams from the front reaching here tonight indicated that no further hostilities had occurred. Gen. Huerta was carrying with him 25,000 gallons of water, his trains being utilized for this purpose and the transporting of provisions and artillery. His soldiers are proceeding on foot, making slow progress over the hot desert, and repairing bridges as they go.

A party of rebels blew out a bridge on the Central south of Torreon last night, near Jimulco, cutting off communication for the time being over the direct line to the capital. The rebels are believed to have been a portion of those recently operating about Piedricena and Velardena.

Rebels Take Mining Camp.
Zacualum, a mining camp in the western limits of the state of Mexico, is believed to have fallen into the hands of the rebel bands. Mail advices from there dated several days ago were to the effect that the place was surrounded and could not hold out. There are said to be some twenty-five Americans there.

To a group of Oaxacans who appealed to the president today for troops, assurance was given that 200 rurales would be sent at once to the relief of the capital of Oaxaca.

Cuernavaca, capital of Morelos, was isolated again, both railroad and wire communication being cut. Fighting was reported to have occurred at El Parque, a few miles from the city.

REBELS RETREATING DEFER ENGAGEMENT
Fall Back to Stronghold at Relano in Face of Federal Advance.

By The Associated Press.

El Paso, Tex., May 19.—A northern retreat of the Mexican rebels in the face of slowly advancing federal army removed by at least two days the expected engagement in the vicinity of Relano.

Advices from the rebel front at Escalon, said the insurgents were falling back on their stronghold at Relano, eleven miles north, burning bridges and otherwise hindering the advance of the federals. Today the main columns of the federals moved up closer to the vanguard at Zavalta, the first station south of Escalon.

The Juarez garrison is rapidly being reinforced by the troops from the south. The federal columns which are supposed to be threatening Juarez, have advanced no closer. Major Sanchez, who commands the federals near here, sent out scouting parties to within two miles of Juarez opposite the Texas line. Here the American officer in charge of the border patrol saw them and reported the fact. Orders were given to let no armed men pass from either side.

THOMAS CAR MANUFACTURER AND AUSTIN HOSTS ARRIVE

Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Nolle of Austin, accompanied by W. H. Thomas of Buffalo, head of the Thomas Automobile company, and H. P. Smith, also of Buffalo, arrived in Waco last night in Mr. Nolle's car, having made the trip from Austin in less than a day. Mr. Thomas was pleased with the roads and said that a pleasant trip was experienced. Mr. Nolle is a wealthy banker and lumberman of Austin. The party is registered at the State House.

TO COMBINE LEATHER UNIONS.

Boston, May 19.—A movement to combine all the unions connected with the boot and shoe trade assumed concrete form at a meeting of union leaders held here today. Resolutions adopted recommended a referendum vote among the organized shoe workers of the country on the combining of such a merger would affect more than 50,000 persons. All the large labor unions were represented by high officials.

CHICAGO SUBURBS THE HAUNT OF WILD MEN
Two of a Colony Arrested After One Had Been Shot, While Resisting Capture.

Special to The Morning News.

Chicago, May 18.—John Jensen, called the "Wild Man" of the Bowmanville woods, just outside of Chicago, was taken by the police last night after he had been wounded by a detective. He is the second of a colony of "wild men" to be arrested within a few days. Both were arrested in the woods, where they are said to have lived all winter. The other man is Frank Joseph.

Robert Haase encountered Jensen in the woods a few days ago and was unable to escape before he had been killed by a club in the "wild man's" hands. He notified the north side police and a searching party has been on the lookout since. He was cornered by several policemen, but resisted until shot. He was not seriously wounded.

Children and women, particularly school teachers on their way home in the evening, have been annoyed for weeks by the men.

Both Jensen and Joseph will be examined as to their sanity.

TEMPERATURES NEAR NORMAL ARE PREDICTED

By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 19.—Temperatures near or above normal will prevail in the southern states and generally throughout the western districts during the coming week, according to the weekly bulletin of the weather bureau, issued tonight.

Cool weather will prevail, the bulletin continues, "the first half of the week in the northern states east of the Rocky mountains, but it will give way to warmer weather in the west about Wednesday. The weather over the country will be generally warm in northern states as a result of the eastward movement of a low pressure area now forming in the far west. A general storm area will move over the country during the week."

WACO WINS 6-5 DESPITE RUN OF BEAUMONT LUCK

Costly Errors Sole Cause of Visitor's Scores.
Game Almost Lost in Ninth---Jost Shows
Near-Perfect Control

MARTINA KNOCKED OUT, GIVE HITS IN FOURTH

(By Whoopee.)

If there's any possible way of revising the rule books, either by the national commission or a la Ban Johnson, so as to eliminate the ninth inning when Waco and Beaumont meet, I'm in favor of it. If there isn't, I advise Christy Mathewson to take another cinch on his copyright story of "Win in the Ninth," and have it double-revited. At the present rate, Beaumont has more schemes and methods of winning in the ninth, or near-winning, than ever flashed through Mathewson's head during his wildest dreams.

As it was and is, Waco won by a 6 to 5 score over Beaumont Sunday afternoon at Katy park, but for several minutes—and anxious ones at that—Waco and the Waco fans had nothing to make a fuss over, about or around. It was the last night that several whistles to keep their courage up, but I didn't hear them, an attack of heart trouble, sudden and acute, demanding attention. Those who stayed to see the finish have something on those who left at the beginning of the ninth, when the score stood 6 to 2 in Waco's favor, and it's a safe wager that the crowd hereafter, at least, Ben Beaumont is the opposition, will stay until the umpire blows the final "Yourout."

Martina Found Wanting.
Although winning by a narrow margin, there's some satisfaction in the fact that Waco "done" something to Martina, Beaumont's touted premier pitcher, and to the further fact that all of Beaumont's scores are traceable solely to one other thing, or things—errors—five of them, three in the seventh, when two scores were made, and two in the ninth, when three were secured. The rest of the game was "nip and tuck," with Waco and Beaumont alternating in nipping. Martina's claim to fame in Waco, unless he retrieves it today, the last game of the series here with Beaumont, was lost in the fourth and fifth. In the fourth he was rapped for five singles, netting three runs, and in the fifth for three more, one a double, netting another score. Bradford, who relieved him in the last of the sixth, got away with his game until the last session, when a double and two singles started things.

Jost, who went the whole route for Waco, although he only struck out four men, did not injure his chances but once, and that was in the ninth, when he issued two passes. In two others were also passed to first, but the stage of the game was not so critical.

Wind Stiff, Crowd Big.
A stiff wind from the south blew during the entire game, and although it favored all the pitchers alike, it was rough on the batters and fielders. Wohleben would have got a home run but for a sudden gust which dropped the ball just inside the park, it hitting the left field fence.

The crowd attending the game yesterday was the largest this season, taking precedence over the opening day. The grand stand, boxes and bleachers were packed, and an overflow crowd hovered over the left side of the field.

Another feature of the day was the absence of wrangling. Not an untoward event happened, and whether it was due to the fact that Larson, Beaumont pitcher, and Criblow, Waco left fielder, are doing a three-day penance and paying a $5 fine had anything to do with it, or the lack of it, is a matter of speculation. Owing to Criblow's suspension, the Waco lineup was shifted, Renard going from right field to left and Reilly taking Renard's position.

"Everybody Doin' It."
The game was devoid of features on Waco's part until the last of the fourth, when Tanner, first up and heading the batting order, singled. His work was duplicated by Aiken and Stewart, and following Renard's flyout, Wohleben was given a base on balls and Reilly and Duguey singled. Tanner scored second and Aiken went to second on a wild throw by Wheeler "at" second. There was nothing else to do but circle the bases, and Tanner, Aiken and Stewart proceeded to join the "everybody's doin' it" club. Carson fanned and Jost was put out.

In the fifth Aiken advanced again, getting a single, and was followed by Stewart's single and scoring on Wohleben's two-bagger. The fire was then put out until the eighth, when Wohleben, second up, got another two-bagger, and was advanced by Reilly to third. A wild pitch allowed Wohleben to score and sent Reilly to third, from where he scored on Duguey's drive to Bradford.

Beaumont Scores in "also ran" class until the first of the seventh, when Dall, first up, was passed. Cowan's fly to right field was dropped by Reilly, and he got to second by virtue of a high throw to that bag by Tanner, the ball being Thebo's drive to short. During the melee Dall scored. Edmiston popped out, and Dawson got to first on a drive. With Bradford at the bat, Dawson stole second, Carson throwing the ball several feet too high and Cowan scoring on that.

There was nothing doing in the eighth, and when the first of the ninth came, the Beaumont bat boy and several of the players began stuffing the bats into the bag and wrapping up their own individual pieces of timber. It was only a stall, just intended to seem to give Waco an easy feeling. It did and it didn't, for Dall, first up, knocked a little pop to Wohleben at first, who dropped the ball and looked at it with supreme disgust. Cowan then knocked a two-bagger, and those who had started from the grand stand, bleachers and side lines rather hesitantly. Thebo was given a base on balls, and Holtz, sent in to bat for Edmiston, was retired at first, allowing Dall to score. Dawson fanned, and Casey, batting for Bradford, was walked. Mayes then knocked a fly to left field, where Renard dropped it, and Cowan and Thebo beat the ball back to the home plate. Wheeler popped out and the game was ended. The score:

A triple play participated in by Sewell, Keleman and Forsythe was the only enlivening feature.

John Paul Jones to Quit Athletics With College

CORNELL'S PHENOMENAL DISTANCE RUNNER WILL NOT TRY FOR HONORS AT INTERNATIONAL OLYMPIC MEET.

Special to The Morning News.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 18.—John Paul Jones, Cornell's phenomenal distance runner, does not intend to go to the Olympic games this summer, even if he is selected by the American Olympic Selection committee. He has been regarded as certain of making the team, and was considered by everybody to be America's standby in the distance events in Sweden. But Jones states that the trip would seriously interfere with his business this summer.

"I would like very much to go with the team if the committee should choose me," Jones declared, when questioned on the matter. "But I would mean losing the whole summer's work, and I do not wish to do that. I expect to make $200 or $300 this vacation, and that will be a big help for my next year in college."

As Jones is working his way through Cornell, it is natural that the prospect of such financial assistance would appeal to him even more than the chance to win glory as a world's champion. In this case Jones discards fame for fortune.

Jones likewise intends to abandon competition and the possibility of future laurels after graduation, which will be in June, 1913.

"I mean to quit the game for good after leaving Cornell," he said when asked about this. "So I shall not enter any athletic club. I expect to go into the engineering profession, either as a mechanical or an electrical engineer."

If Jones persists in his plans, he will thus voluntarily give up the crowning triumph of a world's championship at the Olympic games, the most coveted achievement in the field of athletics, and one easily within his grasp. And in a year the world will see the close of the most remarkable athletic career of recent times.

It was at Exeter Academy that Jones first came into prominence and began his long list of victories. "I happened to be running around in the gymnasium one day," Jones said, "when the coach noticed me and told me to come out on the track. I did so, and received some very good coaching. I tried some of the school track team for three years, and finally made it in my last year."

"I ran for some time before winning a race. My first victory was in the Boston A. A. games in 1909, when I captured the 1000-yard run. Before leaving Exeter my average time for the half mile was 2:02, and I held the school record of 4:30-45 for the mile."

Then Jones came to Cornell, attracted by the fine engineering courses offered at this university. In his freshman year he sprang into note by winning the mile in the freshman-sophomore meet, running it in 4:30 on a muddy track.

He also captured the cup given to the winner of a series of freshmen cross-country runs, and was first in the intercollegiate and the freshmen-sophomore cross-country races.

Those who were observing him predicted a great athletic future for him, as in practice he was regularly vanquishing such Cornell distance stars as Young and Berna, each of whom had won an intercollegiate cross-country championship.

The next year Jones first rose to public notice by winning this intercollegiate cross-country championship—himself, an unusual feat for a sophomore. Before this race Jones had been troubled with a strained knee, and it was generally believed that he would not run. But he competed and surprised everybody, defeating Berna, the former champion, by 200 yards.

Jones' next great achievement was his historic performance at the intercollegiate championship in May, 1911. Here, on the same day, he shattered two long-standing records, the intercollegiate half-mile and the world's mile mark. The latter had been made by Tommy Conneff when a full-grown man in his prime, with ten years of experience. Jones lowered it when under 20, and with less than half the number of years of experience Conneff possessed.

When Jones was asked in regard to this famous mile whether he had ever felt that he had the race in hand during its progress, he smiled. "Only at the end. I didn't let up till the very finish."

"But that wasn't the hardest race of my career, though Hanavan, of Michigan, made it the fastest race I've ever had. I've run some of my hardest-fought races up here in Ithaca, in practice with my teammates. Abel Kiviat did not force me to exert myself in our race last summer, but he was not in very good condition."

"After winning that mile at Cambridge I did not take any special rest in preparation for the half-mile later, and had only the usual run-down. Of course I entered the half-mile with increased confidence, but I did not care particularly about winning or making a new record. I was satisfied with setting the mile."

"Do you intend to better these records in the intercollegiate championships this June?"

"No; I shall simply go out to win."

So far this season Jones' most notable successes have been in winning again the intercollegiate cross-country title. This was the first time any athlete had ever duplicated premier honors in this event. Before the race there had been much speculation as to whether Jones could break this precedent.

"On the day of the race I wasn't thinking of the hoodoo," Jones stated. "I felt no more nervous than the year before. I was only as anxious as one usually is when competing on a team."

JOHNSON AND DETROIT PLAYERS STAND PAT

BOTH SIDES DETERMINED NOT TO GIVE IN—CLUB WILL BE GAME TODAY ANYWAY.

By The Associated Press.

Philadelphia, May 19.—When Ben Johnson, president of the American baseball league, arrived here this afternoon to investigate the strike of players of the Detroit club, he found no change in the situation. Mr. Johnson said he still stood "pat" on his action in suspending "Cobb," which caused the strike of players and the latter say they will refuse to play for Detroit unless the suspension is lifted.

Mr. Johnson arrived in Philadelphia from Cincinnati shortly after 3 o'clock and went into conference with Hugh Jennings, manager of the Detroit team. What occurred at the meeting was not made public. Mr. Johnson merely saying that he had had an extended talk with the manager. He said that he would not discuss the matter further until the arrival here tonight of Frank Navin, president of the Detroit club. Questioned as to what would occur tomorrow in event that the Detroit players still refused to play ball, Mr. Johnson replied that Detroit probably would put a team in the field, "and we will have the same kind of a game as that of yesterday."

During the afternoon Mr. Johnson met and discussed the situation with Ben Shibe, president of the Philadelphia club, and with Connie Mack, its manager.

The Detroit players held a meeting this afternoon and while no announcement was made several of the players said that "they would stick together" and unless Cobb was reinstated the players would not play tomorrow. The Detroiters insist that Cobb was fully on in hitting the spectators last day. He played were all in their talk and disinclined to discuss the matter for public right in groups they took to about the city.

ADJOURNMENT APPEARS FAR OFF

HOUSE, WITH DOCKET VIRTU-ALLY CLEAR, NOW WAITS ON THE SENATE.

Will Not Consent to a Recess Over Convention Period, It Is Reported.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 19.—Gossip of congress now centers largely upon adjournment.

The progressive republican senators insist that after so many months of discussion at this session there would be important legislative achievements on the tariff.
Regular republicans are bringing the tariff bills out of committee, but on reconsideration are abandoning themselves on votes so that the president may have the advantage of vetoing straight democratic tariff measures. The democrats have agreed to press all tariff bills, including the excise tax to a vote;
but have not progressed further toward adjournment. All efforts to mark out a program for adjournment before the national conventions have so far failed in the senate.

House Clears Docket.

The house has virtually cleared its docket. The senate is congested so that such men as Vice-President Sherman, Senators Penrose, Republican leader, Gallinger, Smooth, Bryan, and Warren, among the members of the senate steering committee; Senator Dillingham, head of the special Lorimer investigating committee; Senator Crane and others have no expectation of congress getting away until after June.

"Adjournment?" repeated Vice-President Sherman when asked.
"About the first part of August."

It was said today that if the senate did not adjourn before the conventions the house would refuse to pass over the convention period.
Opposition to a recess has also developed among some senators.

The majority and minority reports of the senate committee that investigated the election of Senator Lorimer will finally be presented tomorrow. The majority sustain Lorimer and the minority declare his election invalid. No date for a vote has been fixed.

Senator Clark of Wyoming, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, expects congress to act promptly on the plan to amend the constitution to have presidents and vice presidents serve a single term of six years. This committee doubtless will favorably report such a bill. Ratification by the state legislatures would be necessary and it would not affect present presidential candidates. The committee also is considering a bill to advance the presidential inauguration to follow closely the election.

Speech to Speak.

Steel tariff speech-making, including a two-day argument by Senator Smooth, will be a feature this week in the senate. Action on the Panama canal administration bill and debate on the naval appropriation bill will occupy the house.
The house judiciary committee will resume tomorrow the investigation of Judge Archbald of the commerce court, continuing all the week. The senate may confirm Richard E. Stone, as United States district judge for Arizona, now under attack by the two Arizona senators.

PINS FAITH TO BARNES.

Special to The Morning News.

Washington, May 19.—Director William B. McKinley of the Taft campaign has become uneasy at persistent rumors that William Barnes Jr., leader of the republican organization in New York, means to desert President Taft in favor of a dark horse choice at the Chicago convention. Accordingly he gave out a statement today in which he reiterated his belief that Mr. Barnes will not desert President Taft when the latter is in most need of New York's 83 votes.

Mr. McKinley denounced as unfounded and inspired by Roosevelt's friends the rumors that Barnes was casting about in the political waters in the hope that a boom could be launched for Senator Root, Senator Burton of Ohio or Justice Hughes of New York. When informed that prominent republican congressmen have disclosed letters written by Barnes to them suggesting that they might select a dark-horse candidate,
Mr. McKinley adhered to his previous contention that Barnes will remain loyal to Taft.

He said that Colonel Roosevelt will be unable to muster over 200 delegates on the first ballot at Chicago, and declared the caliber of the republican delegates to the Chicago convention will not permit of their being stampeded for the colonel.

A Modern Giant-----

Salary $1,000,000,000.00 Per Year

That's not a dream—there's an answer. Hundreds of stories are told of successful—and unsuccessful—campaigns, how fortunes have been made and lost.

One is cited as an illustration: Some fifteen years ago Chicago people became mildly curious regarding the pictures of the "back of a man's head," with just below the inscription, "Meet me face to face." The pictures first appeared in the newspapers, then in street cars, on bill-boards and other places.

A great many people who lived or visited in Chicago will recall how that mild curiosity was intensified as the weeks and months passed. The cards and signs were renewed, but no explanation concerning the identity of the gentleman who requested that you "meet him face to face" was given.

They say a detective discovered the secret.

In a short while people were telling each other. The expression, "meet me face to face" became a street slogan.

Do you know the answer? Perhaps you do. Tom Murray was the man. At that time he managed a "haberdasher shop" on Clark street.

Hundreds of men made their first purchase in his store out of mere curiosity, but here's the point—they found what they asked for, the treatment they received was a pleasant surprise by way of courteous treatment and intelligent attention. An enormously successful business was established.

Although that plan was successful, let us bear in mind "that all painting isn't art"; neither is all publicity good advertising.

Do you really know what advertising means to you, the consumer?

More people read advertising now-a-days with real interest than ever in the history of the world—in newspapers, in magazines, and national weeklies. Even the casual reader can easily recall trite, concise expressions that actually compelled attention—"Eventually, why not now?" "Have you a little Fairy in your home?" "His master's voice." "There's a reason"—and hundreds of others that have unbidden remained in mind.

When the need of the article or goods presents itself our first thought is of the brand or make we know best, where quality is assured.

But why—why is quality assured? Let us go further into this important feature. A manufacturer of articles or goods spends hundreds of thousands of dollars merely to introduce his product to the buying public. Generally the first sale of the product is made at a net loss or without profit. To gain a profit there must be repeat purchases. Remember that vital point. The manufacturer, however, has carefully studied his product; he has confidence that the same quality cannot be marketed at a less price. The product is stamped with his "trade mark" or "brand," which is identified with his name. This trade mark, once established, is valuable, for it is his bond or guarantee that the advertised article is "right" for this obvious reason—it cost a fortune to establish the recognized quality and any deterioration from established quality would be quickly noticed by the best of world judges—the buying public. Confidence once mislaid is not only hard to regain, but expensive. The manufacturer recognizes this fact, as it is impressed upon him by the agency, if reliable, handling his campaign, consequently to assure "repeat purchases," quality must be maintained.

Millions of people understand these facts, and prefer to buy "guaranteed" or "advertised" goods, yet frequently accept something "just as good"—here's a fact to remember—had the store been known that handled the article wanted, the purchaser's footsteps would have been directed there. These facts apply not only to nationally advertised goods, but to "characteristic features" of any business or institution where the name of the merchant or that of the institution guarantees quality and fair treatment.

To obtain that quality or service one must become acquainted with the "characteristic features" of the store, shop or institution; memories sometimes serve us well, still most of us are prone to forget. To sum it up it appears to be a question of how can you, the customer, know "who is who?"

OHIO TO THROW PAPER DICE OF DESTINY

PRIMARIES IN STATE OF MANY PRESIDENTS TOMORROW
TO DECIDE, SAY WISE MEN.

Result May Settle Who Will Be Republican Nominee—Democrats Interested.

By The Associated Press.

Columbus, May 19.—All the presidential candidates now in Ohio rested today, after their whirlwind week leading up to the primary election Tuesday, and the campaign managers began a final effort to instruct the voters how properly to mark their ballots.

On the republican ballot there will be three sets of candidates for delegates named in each of the twenty-one districts. These are pledged respectively to Taft, Roosevelt and La Follette. The names of the presidential candidates will not appear on the ballots. The six delegates at large will be named by the state convention here in June.

Ballots Complicated.

In addition to voting for delegates, the democratic voters will have a special ballot, on which the names of Govs. Harmon and Wilson will appear. The victorious candidate will name the six delegates at large. Both ballots are complicated by carrying full county tickets, names of candidates to county, judicial and state conventions and congressional candidates.

Special elections for bond issues in many counties are also to be held at the primary Tuesday, and in a few counties voters will be required to mark three separate tickets.

The primary will open at 5:30 a.
m. and close at 5:30 p. m.

Will Fight on Today.

Although leaders declare the campaign virtually completed last night,
President Taft and Col. Roosevelt will continue speech-making tomorrow. Mr. Taft, after his visit in Cincinnati, will visit numerous points, winding up with a night speech at Dayton, after which he will return to Cincinnati. Col. Roosevelt will begin at Marietta and finish the day at Dennison. Gov. Harmon is expected to deliver one more address, but has not yet announced at what point.

Roosevelt Satisfied.

By The Associated Press.

Cleveland, O., May 19.—"I am entirely satisfied with the last week," said Colonel Roosevelt in a statement today. "I believe the people of Ohio are sound, and will place Ohio beside Pennsylvania and Illinois in the line-up of the people against the powers that pillage."

Col. Roosevelt spent the day at Mentor, a suburb of Cleveland, with James P. Garfield, ex-secretary of the interior. He criticized President Taft sharply, saying that though Mr. Taft had claimed he was not responsible for the establishment of the bureau he said it was done by Mr. Garfield with Taft's assistance.

"And Taft disbanded it under the dictation of Messrs. Cannon and Tawney," he said, "as he did the country life commission and various commissions."

Correct as Far as It Goes.

Col. Roosevelt then took up the Brownsville affair.
"Mr. Taft states," the statement reads, "that he cabled me while I was in Panama, asking that the order of dismissal be suspended and that I cabled a response denying his request and directed that the order be immediately executed. This is correct as far as it goes but what it conceals is far more interesting than what it reveals."

The former president asserted that Mr. Taft had urged the dismissal of the negro troops involved but after the departure of President Roosevelt for Panama there arose a "storm of protest against the order by the professional politicians."

Began to Wobble.

"Mr. Taft," he continued,
"promptly began to wobble and to show urgent need that somebody should supply the strength and firmness of purpose which he lacked. He explained to me on various occasions that his request was due to apprehension as to the political effect of the order. In meeting them
He then quoted Mr. Taft's report as secretary of war, in 'dismissing a party of the soldiers.' This report, he said, was rendered 16 days after he had received the cablegram. He said that if Mr. Taft stated what he believed, in making his report, he was 'endeavoring to run away from the consequences of his action.'"

"If he did not state the truth," Col. Roosevelt continued, "if he yielded to me and at my dictation accused of the crime of murder men who he believed to be innocent, then his conduct needs no comment."

Col. Roosevelt left for Marietta tonight.

DECLARES TEACHING OF CHURCH CAUSES UNREST

PRESBYTERIANS AT LOUISVILLE WOULD CREDIT RELIGION WITH PROGRESS.

By The Associated Press.

Louisville, May 19.—The church,
by preaching its high ideals, is primarily responsible for the social unrest, declared Charles Stelzle, superintendent of the Presbyterian bureau of social service, addressing a mass meeting held here this afternoon in connection with the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. He was on the program with W. J. Bryan, who was heard in one of his last lectures.

Mr. Stelzle regarded the social unrest as the most hopeful sign of progress, and added that "the church must become the home and center of the great movements for reform and reconstruction about which they organize and unify themselves."

Can Be Anarchist.

To this end he urged that the church "become the exponent of the fundamental principles of truth and justice, which are eternal, permitting every man to apply them for himself. If an individual in the church feels that he can apply these principles best by becoming either a socialist, a communist, a trade unionist or a philosophical anarchist, the church must bid that man Godspeed so long as he applies to his economic political system the principles of Jesus Christ."

"More dangerous," he said, "than any opposing religious system in the churches is the apparent failure to recognize the influence of the social and physical conditions which affect those whom we are seeking to win for Christ. It is in meeting them that the church will be severely tested in the coming day."

Consolidation of the Presbyterian board of relief with the ministerial fund will be proposed tomorrow by the executive committee.

CITY OF SHAWNEE IS ACCUSED OF BRIBERY

Alleged that Fraud Was Used in the County Seat Election. Order Election.

Special to The Morning News.

Oklahoma City, May 19.—Bribery and fraud were charged against the city of Shawnee in an opinion of the state supreme court Tuesday, holding that deceit had been practiced to such an extent that it had nullified the election to determine whether Shawnee or Tecumseh should be the permanent seat of Pottawatomie county.

The court declared it could not tell from the returns of the election in February, 1910, what the will of the uncorrupted voters was and accordingly set the entire vote aside and advised Governor Crouce to call a new election.

Shawnee made an offer to the voters of Pottawatomie county that it would lease the county the Shawnee city hall for ten years at $10 per year, while the reasonable rental value of the building was $3000 per year. The supreme court held that this offer constituted bribery under the statute governing county seat elections. It was found also that Shawnee had expended a fund of $20,000 without keeping a record. The referee declared that sixty-one voters, whom he named, had been bribed to vote for Shawnee and had been paid money for their votes.

MARRIED TO "REFORM HIM."

Special to The Morning News.

New York, May 19.—Justice Guy, in the supreme court, today granted a decree of separation to Mrs. Alice Furness, a one-time Salvation Army lassie, from William Ponsbury Furness, grandson of the founder of the $40,000,000 Furness estate, and granted her $15 a week alimony.

"This is a case where both parties are at fault in their quarrels," the justice was told by counsel. It was admitted by counsel also that Mrs. Furness married Furness to "reform" him.

Mrs. Furness testified that her husband struck her, threatened her with a revolver and that she feared for her life.

Furness is a brother of Grace Livingston Furness, the author and playwright.

Markets

COTTON LETTER.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, May 19.—The cotton market this week can hardly fail to be a weather affair, although prices may fluctuate to some extent on gossip and rumors regarding the annual report on acreage and the first report of the season on condition by the government. These reports were not allowed to have much effect on the market last week because of the uncertainty surrounding the date of publication.

They were scheduled to be given out on June 4 but a determined effort was made to pass a bill through congress making the date a month later. Both reports are expected to be very bullish and any delay in putting them out is regarded with favor by the short side. Because of the developments in congress, private crop reports from the bureau have not put out anything concerning either the acreage or condition.

The outlook is that the week will open with the U. S. kind of weather report from the cotton region and crop improvement. Whether the bear side will be able to take advantage of these two things depends to a great extent on their ability to keep profit-taking operations down in some quarters.

Another week of good weather is expected to bring out a great deal of liquidation from the long side which would of course work against prices. It is claimed that foreign spot buyers are beginning to hold off from the market because of the improvement in new crop prospects and it is said Texas has been offering new crops abroad very freely.

The trade will watch for information in this direction and any developments which tend to prove the correctness of these claims will be made use of extensively by bear traders. The weather, however, will be the main thing and will have the most influence on prices.

FINANCIAL REVIEW.

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 19.—The action of the market for stocks last week made it evident that control has been relaxed by the organization which has stood in support of the stability of prices during the recent speculative campaign. The always watchful professional trading element, through its constant testing operations, demonstrated that protective measures had withdrawn from the market and to the effect of profit taking. Signs that support had been withdrawn aroused the fears of belated followers of the speculation who found themselves burdened with holdings and their efforts to carry on the campaign were complicated by the suspicion aroused by the aggressive bidding up of obscure stocks.

Current supposition in the stock market was that a distribution of holdings at the higher price levels had preceded this campaign in the conduct of the market leadership and had supplied the principal motive for that change. It was assumed also that there was involved a reconsideration of the earlier disposition to ignore the progress of a presidential campaign and its traditional repressive influence on business. The controversial heat developed in the canvass has awakened doubts over the outcome and corresponding hesitation in assuming conditions to come.

Reports from the steel trade strengthened the conviction of expansion and improvement. Demands from manufacturers for long-time deliveries of steel were promising indications. The fortnightly reduction in the European visible supply of copper, with reports of large buying by the domestic consumers, gave an upward impetus to the price of that metal, the highest on the present move. Parallel advances in silver and white lead spread these influences all through the metal industries.

Liquidation in the wheat market was taken to mean that the worst in the crop prospect had been discounted in the speculation. It did not escape comment, however, that the impairment of early hopes of the wheat crop had been little noticed in the period of advancing prices of stocks. Bad weather, obstacles to corn and cotton planting and the possibility of reduced acreage in spring wheat also entered into the estimate of the future.

The April 18 returns of the national banks to the comptroller of the currency indicate a large reserve away from the conservative centers in the two months' interval since the last call, and a corresponding expansion in loans in the same direction. Such a movement is indicative of commercial expansion and revival. Hardening of the New York money market in the same period in 1910 thus exhibited. A foreign trade also made a record, with value of exports the largest for the month and with value of imports an absolute record.

The preponderant growth in import values left the export excess for the month the smallest since 1895, with the exceptions of 1909 and 1910. New York's command of foreign banking credits was correspondingly affected by comparison. Sluggishness in the bond market may be traceable partly to this showing.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW.

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 19.—The railroads were more conservative in placing contracts for equipment last week and fewer large orders for steel products came from manufacturers. It is estimated, however, that the steel mills booked additional contracts for 300,000 tons, half of which was derived from railroad purchases, including 85,000 tons of rails, 10,000 tons for bridge work and 50,000 for rolling stock and motive power.

Principal rail contracts were by the New York, New Haven and Hartford, the Seaboard, the Atlantic Coast line and by railroads in Brazil and Cuba. Inquiries still pending aggregated 175,000 tons, including the Pacific coast lines, Missouri Pacific, Wash and Illinois Central. The largest car orders came from the Seaboard Air Line, the Burlington, the Great Northern and the American Refrigerator and Transit company, and the principal locomotive orders from the Burlington and New Haven.

Numerous small orders were placed for steel buildings and manufacturing plant extensions in all sections of the country, but there was an absence of any large single contract. Steel companies continued to operate practically to capacity, applications on contracts being heavy. The United States Steel Corporation purchased 10,000 tons more of billets on the open market, and automobile and hardware manufacturers secured 9000 tons in the eastern markets.

Prices on jobbers' warehouse stocks of bars and plates and shapes were advanced $1 per ton in the New York, Chicago and Pittsburgh districts and the American Sheet and Tinplate company advanced tinplate 10c per box, or $2 per ton to $3.50 per box.

The buying movement in pig iron is over temporarily, contracts aggregating only 100,000 tons in all districts, including 45,000 tons for pipe works secured from Alabama furnaces.

COTTON GOODS REVIEW.

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 19.—The primary cotton goods markets have ruled generally firm, but trading has been interfered with by unseasonable weather over a wide range of territory, and that fact has delayed development of plans for merchandising for fall and spring. Jobbers are still getting good advance orders for fall on cotton blankets, napped cottons and colored cottons, but immediate trading in domestics, prints, wash fabrics and fine fancy cottons has been light.

The firmness of cotton, the high cost of production at mill centers and relatively slow output of mills that are running more machinery than a year ago, combine to accentuate the firmness that is maintained in values despite a quiet demand.

Fall river sales of print cloths hardly reached 50,000 pieces during the present week, but owing to the well sold position of the mills there was no accumulation of stocks at that center.

Export demand from miscellaneous small ports is of fair volume, but the larger ports are doing nothing. China distribution is disturbed by conditions in the interior, and Red Sea distribution is interfered with by the blocking of ports in consequence of the Italian-Turco war.

Editorial Page of Waco Morning News

The slogan of the Commercial Secretaries' association that "Texas needs great men" does not intend to convey the idea that Texas has no great men, for every one who knows anything of the character of the men who are making Texas knows that in the Lone Star state there are great men in every department of activity, and just because there are demagogues who would mislead the people in order that they may be elected to office is no sign that Texas has no men who are so thoroughly imbued with patriotism that they are willing to devote their energies in order that all the people may be benefited. It is harder to be a great man today than ever before in the history of the country, because there are so many different interests that are clamoring for recognition, and to be honest, just and fair to them all, one must have a complex mind. People are better informed than they ever were, and they are therefore more capable of picking the weak places in the mentality of the men who are the leaders and the men who pose as the leaders in the various walks of life. One has but to compare the men who are building and developing this vast empire of Texas with men of other states, to be convinced that Texas has her proportion of unselfish, patriotic citizens.

The world is progressing rapidly. A half century ago the telephone was not known. Friday night in Temple the editors assembled, through the courtesy of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone company, and listened to quite a lengthy address in St. Louis, nearly a thousand miles away. It was easily understood. Every editor had a receiver, and this achievement of modern science is one well worth pondering over. The gentleman who delivered the address in St. Louis said that within a few years the Atlantic and the Pacific, distant 3500 miles, would be connected by telephone. Distance is being annihilated by electricity. Its wonders have just begun. Upon the waves of the air, as upon the metallic wires, messages are sent from place to place, and who doubts but that thoughts may be transmitted from mind to mind, and some day those who are working out the mysteries of nature will be able to direct us how to send our thoughts wheresoever we will, and how to receive the thoughts of others. One who is wise doubts nothing.

At Temple, at the Texas Press association banquet, 216 editors listened to an address over the telephone by Judge Sam R. Scott while he sat in his home in Waco. The judge was very eulogistic of Waco. He told that large body of educators about the beautiful Amicable building, about the largest wholesale drug stores in the state, about the many factories that distribute their products over the great state of Texas, about the large life insurance companies and the large fire insurance companies in operation in Waco, reaching out throughout the state and even into other states. He told about lovely Cameron Park, and about the driveway being constructed along the Brazos that will rival the boulevards along the rivers of the east. And the editors heard him tell of the Katy shops, the interurban railway and Baylor university, and they applauded liberally and long.

Passing along the street the other day was an ambulance, in which was the mangled form of a man who had been injured in a railroad wreck. Such things as these come to people when they least expect it, and no one knows just why they are distributed in this manner. No one can tell why, in a car full of people, one is mashed and mangled, while the others escape with practically no injury. While so many are carried to hospitals in ambulances, we who are sound in mind and members should be very thankful that we do not take the train that runs into the open switch or plunges headlong into another train because of mixed orders. Then, too, we should enjoy each day, and make it as happy and as bright as we can for those with whom we mix and mingle, for we can not tell what time we may be selected for the ambulance.

The disposition to distrust our fellow men and to attribute to them sinister motives, without knowing anything upon which to base our suspicions, is one calculated to retard progress and minimize earnest, honest effort. We should attribute to every one honesty of purpose until we know to the contrary, if we expect other people to give us credit for sincerity. We are too prone to lend a willing ear to the demagogue, when we ought to be helping encourage the forces that are developing the state and adding to her prosperity. Do more and talk less.

While we are more or less dependent upon nature for our prosperity, we can add to that prosperity very materially by honest toil. Though the rains come and the sun beams and smiles, unless we till the soil and plant the grain there will be no golden harvest.

Even if Orozco should be defeated, can Madero satisfy the people, and keep down further rebellion, is a very pertinent question.

"Come, go home with me daddy," said the little blue-eyed boy, and daddy longed to change his plans and go along with the little fellow. When the dear baby's sweet voice pleads for something, and he holds out his chubby, eager arms, daddy can hardly resist the pleading, for he knows that only too soon will he grow into a man and go out into the world to fight its many battles, and little ones of his own will call to him, and clasp their tender, loving arms about his neck, and granddaddy's eyes, grown dim with the flight of many years, will fill with tears as from out the past there comes flashing back those sweet baby days of long ago. God bless the poppy-colored lips, the eyes like the evening and the morning stars, the pattering footsteps and the rippling laughter that echoes throughout the house. Though you may grow to be a great big man, as long as life may last, within the heart will linger the memory of the days and the nights when you were with daddy, all sweet and pure and innocent, a messenger from heaven, a token of love and immortality.

One who is a great architect may be pardoned a little pride in the structures that he plans. But one should remember that while there must be some one to plan, there must also be some one to do the work. Nothing can be accomplished without labor. The labor of the brain must be supplemented with the labor of the hands. In the construction of a great edifice, the man who digs the excavation for the foundation is just as important as the man who plans the big edifice and in whose mind it lay as a dream before it became a concrete reality, a part of human activity. In our admiration for the architect we are apt to lose sight of the humble toilers who, with pick and shovel, made the foundation a possibility.

The judiciary committee has reported favorably a bill to limit the tenure of the president's office to one term of six years. This was brought about, no doubt, by the disgraceful contest between ex-President Roosevelt and President Taft, who are going about the country engaging in a disgraceful campaign of villification. In almost any other country in the world were any one to make such attacks upon the chief executive as Roosevelt has made upon President Taft, he would be arrested and jailed for treason. A one-term tenure of six years would forever prevent a repetition of such a spectacle, and there will be many good people who will advocate this measure.

Nature has a way of rewarding him who is big enough and brave enough to do things that have for their purpose the general uplift of mankind. He who works for the happiness of others and for the general prosperity of others will be given happiness and pecuniary reward. The world gives back to men what they give to others. It is the law of nature. Try it.

Friends should be all in all to us. We should love to clasp them by the hand, look into their eyes and help them all we can along the rough and rugged roads of life. The time will come only too soon when we must leave them, or they will leave us for that unknown land beyond the stars, from which no voice is ever heard.

Men and women are wasteful of their time, and use it just as if it never had an end. But just as surely as the dawn creeps out of the east at break of day, so will the evening shadows fall. It is all very well to play and laugh and sing, but to waste one's time in silly bickerings and useless effort to injure other men is unpardonable.

If all will keep busy and devote all energies and all talents to work, there is not much time or inclination to be had. Idleness is the cause of most of the sins of the world and idleness is due to ignorance. The industrial system is the cause of much of the ignorance of the people.

If you would keep out of mischief, get busy and do something for yourself, your friends, your family and the city in which you live. You are not much of a man if you are willing to go through life and let others do all the work while you eat the fruits of their labor.

President Taft claims that he has more than enough instructed delegates to be nominated on the first ballot. Hope springs eternal in many a breast!

The enforcing of the criminal clause of the Sherman act would do away with the increase in value of trust stocks after dissolution by civil proceedings.

We live but once, and are a long time dead; therefore we should do all the good we can while we live, and leave behind us as few heart aches as possible.

CORPORATE EARNINGS FELL OFF MORE THAN HUNDRED MILLIONS IN 1911.

Labor Getting Larger Reward With-out Roads Getting Bigger Dividends.

Washington, May 19.—Corporate earnings in the United States decreased $115,500,000 during 1911. That figure represents the comparative loss in net earnings as reported to Royal Cabell, commissioner of internal revenue, for making assessments under the corporation excise tax law.

In a statement issued today, Mr. Cabell says the returns indicate poorer conditions last year than in 1910, particularly in the iron and steel manufacturing industries.

Gross Receipts Not Suffering. The Gross Receipts of corporations do not suffer as great a ratio of decrease as the net. The returns indicate, the commissioner points out, that this was because the labor and supply men shared more largely in the receipts of the various companies in 1911 than in 1910. This was particularly so in the case of railways, he said, which seemed generally to have paid increased amounts for labor "without a corresponding increase in income being indicated, in many cases an actual decrease in income being shown."

The 1 per cent on net earnings of corporations will turn into the federal treasury about $28,279,000, most of which will be paid in June, against $28,432,000 last year, a decrease of $154,000. The amount probably will be augmented somewhat before the close of the fiscal year, Mr. Cabell says, bringing the decrease below $1,000,000.

FATHER'S FINE ANGERS SON. Armed With Shotgun, Seven-Year-Old Effects Many Changes.

Chicago, May 19.—When Charley Bell, 7 years old, heard his father complaining in Highwood, a suburb, about having been fined $150 for selling liquor without a license, he decided some of the mills of justice at the city hall needed repairing. So he picked up his father's shotgun and set out to change conditions.

Advancing to the city hall square, he began a bombardment of the building.

Here are some of the things he did: Broke several windows. Knocked over the mayor's inkstand.

Perforated Town Marshal L. K. Houston's new felt hat.

After the shot passed through the marshal's hat the latter called a policeman to his aid and together they advanced on the enemy and captured him.

ATHLETICS AND TIGERS WON'T PLAY TODAY

AT CONFERENCE OF JOHNSON, SHIBE AND MACK, NO GAME IS DECIDED UPON.

Meeting of the American League Club Heads is Called for Tuesday.

By The Associated Press.

Philadelphia, May 19.—There will be no game at the local American League grounds tomorrow between the Philadelphia and Detroit teams. This conclusion was reached late tonight after a conference between President Johnson of the American League and President Shibe and Manager Mack of the Athletics, after it became apparent that President Navin of the Detroit club would not arrive in this city in time to adjust matters with his players, who have refused to play until "Ty" Cobb is reinstated. President Johnson issued a call for a meeting of the American League club presidents on Tuesday in this city. He said the call was issued for the purpose of devising means of securing players to take the places of the men who have broken their contracts with the Detroit club.

President Johnson refused to make any statement with reference to the striking players previous to the arrival of President Navin. The latter had not reached the city up to a late hour tonight.

Commenting upon the situation, Manager Mack said: "We have no desire to take advantage of the unfortunate owners of the Detroit club, brought about by circumstances which they could not prevent. On Sunday we were placed in a difficult position. Until the hour set for the beginning of play we were not certain that the regular Detroit team would not play and we would have been subject to a severe penalty if we had pursued any course other than what we did. The Athletics are not desirous of winning games from scrab teams and for that reason the game scheduled for tomorrow was called off."

Have Suspended Selves. Late tonight President Johnson, in discussing the status of the striking Detroit players, said: "Everyone of the striking players has automatically suspended himself and made himself ineligible to compete in a game under organized baseball control until he is reinstated by the national commission. By refusing to play a scheduled game these players have violated a clause in their contract which makes them liable to fine not only by the Detroit club but by the national commission."

"The Detroit club will not appear on the field again until I am assured that it has a team of competent players who can compete successfully with other teams of the league. There will be no more games in the American League."

To Play Game Over. The standing of the players must be threshed out by Mr. Navin. Then their status will reach me. As a member of the national commission, I will have to say whether they will continue to play ball in the American League."

Shibe and Manager Mack of the Athletics in yesterday's game. It will be played later in the season, possibly on Detroit's second visit to Philadelphia."

If the strike is not settled definitively by Tuesday it is possible that the officials of the Washington club will agree to a postponement. It would be a compliment if they do."

"I had a very enjoyable two hours' talk with Johnson. We discussed the matter fully but took no action or discussed any procedure. We are waiting for Mr. Navin."

Would Enter Tiger Strikers in U. S. League

By The Associated Press. Milwaukee, Wis., May 19.—A Milwaukee syndicate tonight wired the "striking" Detroit baseball club headed by "Ty" Cobb, asking the team to get a price on their services. The syndicate wished to enter a team in the new United States League, having had an option on a franchise since the league was formed.

C., May 19.—In complete return from counties in North Carolina where a test presidential preference vote was taken in the democratic primary yesterday indicate about an even break between Woodrow Wilson and Oscar Underwood of Alabama. Seven counties are known to have expressed a preference for Wilson and seven for Underwood; other counties are divided and still others indicated no preference.
